Genoua, June 17.

YEsterday arrived here the Spaniſh Gallies, which with thoſe of this State are 38 in number. Two Genoueſe Men of War of about 60 Guns apiece, are now at Sea, and others are fitting out. There are five Engliſh Ships in this Port richly laden for Spain; and ſeven unlading from ſeveral parts.

Vienna, June 18. Yeſterday parted from hence the Gallies and other ſmall Veſſels that are to be employed on the Dannbe under the command of Count Vecchi. From Hungary we have advice, that the Imperial Army hath paſſed the Danube at Gran, and marched towards Buda, intending in their way to attack Vicegrad. In the mean time the Palatin of Hungary is ordered to keep Newheuſel cloſely blocked up. Monſieur Schultz is gone to command the Troops in Upper-Hungary, where Count Teckeley does appear again with a Body of 5 or 6000 men, the greateſt part whereof are Turks and Tartars. We are told that the Croats, being reinforced with ſeveral German Regiments that had their Winter-Quarters in Stiria, are on their march towards the Bridge of Eſſecke with deſign to burn it.

Lintz, June 20. The Letters from Gran of the 16th Inſtant inform us, that two Bridges having been laid over the Danube near that place, the Duke of Lorrain, after having held ſeveral Councils of War, had cauſed the whole Army to paſs the ſaid River on the 14th and 15th Inſtant; and that they marched towards Vicegrad, having left their Baggage at Gran.

Francfort, June 25. The Letters from Lintz of the 18th Inſtant tell us, That the Imperial Army had paſſed the Danube at Gran; and marched towards Buda; and that the Duke of Lorrain's deſign was to poſſeſs himſelf of the Forts which the Turks have made upon the Hills near that place, and from thence to attack it with his Cannon and Bombs. And in a Poſtſcript of a Letter it is written, That they had juſt then received advice, that the Imperialiſts having met a Body of 16000 Turks, had after a very ſharp Fight totally defeated them; above 5000 of them being killed upon the place; and that the Imperialiſts had loſt 2000; and that the Duke of Lorrain had put a Gariſon into Vaccia which the Turks had abandoned.

Bruſſels, June 27. On Saturday laſt the Heer Van Achtienhouen, the Heer Haerſholte, and the Heer Gockinga, arrived in the Dutch Camp from the Hague, being ſent by the States General to acquaint the Prince of Orange with the Reſolution they had taken to accept the Truce propoſed by his Moſt Chriſtian Majeſty, and to deſire his Highneſs to take care that no Hoſtilities might be committed by their Troops. The ſame day paſſed through this place an Expreſs with Letters from the French Ambaſſador at the Hague, to the Mareſchal de Schomberg; who as yet continues Encamped with the Army under his command at Leſſines; but it's ſaid he will decamp in a day or two, and retire towards Tournay. The laſt week between 6 and 700 Spaniards landed at Oſtend, being Recruits for the Spaniſh Regiments in the Service of theſe Provinces; But a Veſſel which had on board 250, was taken by the French Privateers and carried to Dunkirke, which the Marquis de Grana having notice of, he ſent immediately Orders for the Ranſoming them.

Bruſſels, June 30. Flanders and Brabant ſuffering very much by the neighbourhood of the two Armies, the States of theſe Provinces have repreſented to his Excellency their Condition, and have prayed him that the Dutch Forces may be ſent home, for that otherwiſe the Country will not be able to pay their Subſidies. And we are told that the Prince's Army will decamp to morrow by break of day, and that the Troops are ordered to march to their ſeveral Gariſons within the Dutch Territories: His Highneſs will part himſelf about midnight for Breda, and ſo for Honſlaerdyke, where he intends to ſtay a day or two, and then to go to Dieren. Yeſterday the Marquis de Grana entertained the Prince of Orange and all his General Officers, at the Houſe of Prince Taxis near the Camp. We are told that Matters are adjuſted between the Elector and City of Cologne; and that that City is to receive a Gariſon of the Troops of the Circle of Weſtphalia.
